RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

If a person considers that they have already acquired the competencies of the specific ISA training program, they may apply to have these skills recognized.

The RPL Assessment is carried out when the applicant provides evidence of the relevant competencies, completes the RPL Application form and forwards this with any fees required by the organization for processing.

HOW CAN RPL BE RECOGNIZED?

There are many ways that you can show evidence of the competencies you hold. However, RPL can only be granted on current evidence, that is, work that has been completed within the last four years. Some examples of evidence that can be provided to demonstrate your competencies include:

- Copies of certificates or qualifications achieved from other courses or schools
- Statements outlining courses and/or study that you have undertaken and the learning outcomes/competencies achieved from these
- Resume/ CV of experience
- Reports from people within your sport
- Relevant work samples e.g. training programs, videos of your coaching
- Evidence of home/self-directed study which may include a list of recent readings, synopsis of seminars attended, reports of own research/analysis undertaken

RPL PROTOCOL

The following procedure must be followed when a person wishes to obtain RPL.

Step 1 – Complete RPL Application and send to ISA Presenter

Applicants must gather all relevant supporting documentation and complete the RPL Application. Forward this with supporting documentation to the ISA Official Course Presenter.

RPL Application Checklist

- Completed Section 1 of RPL Application
- Provided comprehensive evidence for all competencies in Section 2
- Satisfied all the requirements in Section 3
- Read and signed the ISA Coaching & Instructing Code of Ethics
- Submitted relevant payment

Step 2 – ISA Presenter Assessment

The application will be reviewed by an RPL assessment panel. The panel will compare the evidence provided by the applicant with the competencies required for the training program. A judgement will be made about whether the applicant wholly or partially meets the requirements. The panel should check that the evidence submitted conforms to the following RPL principles:

- Validity - Is the evidence relevant?
- Sufficiency - Is there enough evidence?
- Authenticity - Is the evidence a true reflection of the candidate?
- Currency - Is the evidence recent? ie. Obtained within four years?

The RPL assessment panel will complete and return the assessors' reports with recommendations for the applicant.

In the event of partial completion of the competencies, the panel will outline which competencies still need to be achieved, and preferably what evidence is still required.

Options include:

- Supply further supporting documentation
- Complete certain assessment activities
- Complete parts of a training program
- Work with a mentor to obtain the required competencies

Step 3 – Notification

The applicant will be notified of the decision within two months of receiving the application.

Step 4 – Appeal

The applicant has the right to appeal the RPL assessment panel's decision, if they believe the decision is unfair, unjust or if the panel has misinterpreted the evidence. In the case of an appeal, a new assessment panel will be established. The new assessment panel will review all material available and make a decision. The RPL review assessment panel will notify the applicant of the decision within two months of receiving the appeal. The decision of the RPL review assessment panel will be final.

Step 5 – Payment

Successful applicants for RPL must pay the Course Fee as determined by the ISA & Presenter.

Step 6 – Reporting to the ISA

For all successful and paid applicants, the ISA Presenter will:

- Send a completed "Blank Coach Registration Form" spreadsheet to the ISA with the names and information of the applicants. Under "Course Date" the date is the date sent to the ISA. Under "Course Location" the location is the city in which the Presenter most typically conducts Courses.
- The ISA will send the Presenter an Invoice for the names received. The ISA fees are outlined below.
- The Presenter will pay for the invoice either via wire transfer or using Google Checkout on the ISA website.
- Upon receipt of payment, the ISA will send the Certificate and Wallet Card to the Presenter or Instructor (whichever is more appropriate) and add their information in the appropriate place on the ISA website.

Information for Applicants

Introduction

You can apply for Recognition of Prior Learning or Current Competence (RPL) if you think your prior learning and experience mean you already have the competencies of the Level 1 Coaching course.

How can prior learning be recognised?

There are many ways that you can show evidence of the competencies you hold. RPL can only be granted on current evidence, that is, work that has been completed within the last four years. Some examples of evidence that can be provided to demonstrate your competencies include:

- Copies of certificates, qualifications achieved from other courses, school or tertiary results.
- Statements outlining courses and/or study that you have undertaken and the learning outcomes/competencies achieved from these.
- Resume of experience.
- Reports from people within your sport.
- Relevant work samples eg. training programs, videos of your coaching.
- Evidence of home/self directed study which may include a list of recent readings, synopsis of seminars attended, reports of own research/analysis undertaken.

RPL procedure

If you consider that you have already acquired the learning outcomes of a Level 1 Coaching course, you may formally apply to have these skills recognised.

Step 1 – complete application and send to the ISA Official Presenter [ISAOP] in your country.

Applicants will need to gather all relevant supporting documentation and complete the RPL application form. Forward this with supporting documentation, and the relevant fee ($130), to the ISA OP.

Step 2 – assessment

The application will be reviewed by an RPL assessor. The assessor will compare the evidence provided by the applicant with the competencies required for the training program. A judgement will be made about whether the applicant wholly or partially meets the requirements.

In the event of partial completion of the competencies, the assessor will outline which ones still need to be achieved, and preferably what evidence is still required.

Step 3 – notification

The applicant will be notified of the decision within two months of receiving the application. In the event of partial completion of the course competencies, the assessor will outline which competencies still need to be achieved, and preferably how.

Options can include:

- Complete further training
- Work with a senior coach
- Provide more information
- Complete prescribed home study options

Successful applicants for RPL will receive ISA Level 1 Surf Coach accreditation, and will be placed on the ISA International Instructor database.

Step 4 – appeal

The applicant has the right to appeal the RPL assessor's decision, if they believe the decision is unfair, unjust or if the assessor has misinterpreted the evidence.

In the case of an appeal, an alternative assessor will review the application and make a decision. The alternative assessor will notify the applicant of the decision within two months of receiving the appeal.
